SCHOOL BOARD RECEIVES NEW BUILDING PRICE

Cost Breakdown Includes Complete School Setup

A breakdown of proposed classroom construction expenditures was made this week by the School Board of Trustees at its regular meeting.

On the basis of a rough estimate made for the board Architect Ralph C. Flewelling, School Board President E. Waldo Ward said that the $180,000 bond election was set on the following basis:

Site for school expansion	$40,000
Development of site	15,000
Six classrooms in units of two classrooms each	78,000
Kindergarten and administrative unit	30,000
Playground equipment, etc.	7,500
Walk and development	8,500
Total	$179,000

The architect pointed out that this estimate was based on construction costs of similar structures which amounted to $9.38 per square foot at Inglewood.

Flewelling said that his architectural firm had developed the proposed two-classroom unit (with cost of construction approximately $26,000 per unit) which meets all standards of lighting, ventilation and general educational needs for construction at relatively low cost.

His firm's structures are of reinforced brick masonry with concrete slab floors which have radiant heat installed in the floors of kindergartens and the lower grades so that the rooms may be used as play areas.

Costs also are cut by employing prefabrication of classroom cabinets, he said in his report. Cost of cabinets which once amounted to $1800 per room have been cut to $680 per room by standardization and prefabrication. Money also is saved through prefabrication of parts of the trussed roof, he pointed out.

The kindergarten and administrative unit is similar in design and floor space to the other two classroom units, his report said, but the cost is slightly more because of necessary interior furnishings.

Following up its action of a week ago in which it turned down further consideration of a part of the city-owned spreading grounds as a possible school site, the board said that it has several sites under consideration.

These sites are located in the east side of the city in the heavily populated areas which now holds the bulk of school-age children.

Among them are the Cypress Court properties and citrus acreage on the east side of town. Because owners of the properties have indicated that they are not now willing to negotiate with the School Board, no announcement has been made regarding possible purchase of any particular piece of land.

A FRIEND DEPARTS

For I, who come from many parts
Have learned to love you as a friend.
And when a slow-stepped cavalcade
Passes 'neath your blessing hand,
And I no more shall need your shade,
Just nod, old Friend—I'll understand.

So pained Jack Mitchell in his last verse of "My Pepper Tree" printed in last week's Sierra Madre News. The verse to his family and close friends seemed a prophetic farewell.

Jack Mitchell, who brought his bride to Sierra Madre after World War I, has been one of the city's outstanding characters. He served as a Corporal, 1st Inf. Regiment, Co. G, and was returned to the States as a war casualty from gas. His life since has been a succession of hospitalization; out for a time and back in the hospital to build up. It was at Whipple Barracks in Arizona that the Mitchells met. Mrs. Mitchell at that time was a war nurse. After their discharge from the service they were married in Los Angeles.

Mr. Mitchell being a reporter on the Los Angeles Times. The following year they moved to Sierra Madre which has been their home for 28 years. Their son, Thomas Mitchell, a student at Santa Barbara College, was born here 26 years ago. The family home is at 58 South Hermosa.

Mr. Mitchell's death came after a brief illness at the Birmingham Hospital last Wednesday night. The local rites were held Monday at the Grant Chapel with Rev. Clarence Nide of Bethany Church officiating, followed by a Military Funeral at the Sawtelle National Cemetery. Honorary pallbearers were George Hapgood, Harvey Steinberger, Harold Roberts, Harry Holland, Francis Eakman and Jack Ort.

Henry Jefferson Mitchell was an honorary member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Disabled Veterans of America. He slipped away quietly but will be deeply missed.

Open Meeting Monday Nite at City Hall

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its first regular general membership and open meeting of 1948 next Monday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers of the City Hall.

This open meeting, to which all businessmen and individuals interested in civic betterment are invited, will be held in conjunction with the Board of Director's semi-monthly session.

An open discussion of Chamber projects and problems will be held, and revised by-laws of the organization will be presented to the general membership for approval.

President Noren Eaton urged all members and civic-minded persons to attend.

KIWANIANS UNANIMOUS ON BOND

CIVIC GROUPS VOICE SUPPORT TO PROJECT

Support for the school bond issue which will be decided next May 4 at a special election was expressed this week by civic organizations and prominent persons of Sierra Madre.

At its meeting last Tuesday the Kiwanis Club, which had heard an appeal the week before by Rudolph Hartman, chairman of the Citizens' School Bond Campaign Committee, unanimously adopted a resolution which recommended favorable vote on the school bond issue May 4.

At the request of Kiwanis President Sam McElfresh, the organization's board of directors referred the resolution to the general membership for support.

First organization to take a stand behind the school bond issue, which is designed to relieve present overcrowding and provide for growing population, was the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber's Board, presided over by Vice-President Thomas Schwartz, adopted a resolution which placed that group on record as "favoring the successful passage of the school bond issue."

Unanimous backing of the proposed classroom construction was also given at the last meeting of the Lions Club after hearing an appeal by Howell White, Jr., and George Parr, who said that "present school facilities are pathetically overcrowded and not conducive to the good health

Bowmans Buy Store Site On Boulevard

The Melvin Bowman Store is another business which will move into the newer business area on West Sierra Madre Blvd. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have purchased the Reitherman property at 138 West Sierra Madre Blvd. and will move their appliance store there about the first of June. Attractive show windows will eventually be made across the front and living quarters will be arranged on the second floor. The property has wonderful possibilities for the project. It is the first location west of the Carl Hansen Ford Agency.

ONE WEEK REMAINS TO REGISTER

All residents of Sierra Madre were warned by the Chamber of Commerce that only one week remains for voter registration for the June 1 primary election.

All those persons who have moved since last registering, who have changed their names or who failed to vote in any general election of 1948 and have not re-registered must go before a deputy registrar of voters before midnight, April 22, in order to establish eligibility to vote.

Mrs. J. Stadden Miller, 71 E. Alegria, was called to Somis, Centura City, last week where her mother, Mrs. William Collier, passed away, April 10. Mrs. Collier, 76, was a prominent ranch owner. Services were Tuesday.

Cancer Drive Intense For Coming Week

The Cancer Fund Drive is on in earnest this week in Sierra Madre. Chairman, Mrs. Chas. Rizzo has mailed our hundreds of letter and pamphlets in the city telling of the great work being done to curb cancer.

The fact that the present school is critically overcrowded cannot be disputed. Our school was designed to house 470 children. It now houses almost 700. Space has been made by overcrowding 13 regular classrooms and by converting to classroom use special-purpose rooms such as the library, a part of the cafeteria, the domestic science, the art and the music rooms. With no further increase in enrollment five additional classrooms are needed to relieve overcrowding and make available these special rooms for a necessary part of our children's education.

The proposed $180,000 bond issue will build 6 rooms. One room will be used for administration. The "extra space" thus secured will be 5 classrooms, for $180,000. Sending the 7th and 8th grades to Pasadena would release 4 classrooms AT ONCE, eliminate double sessions, cost nothing more. The proposed new building is called "just a start" on

Chamber of Commerce Asks Deplorable Condition at Canyon Pool be Remedied

The City Council will be urged to take immediate action to repair and maintain the Canyon Bath House which now is in a shameful condition. In a resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and directed to the City Council, it was pointed out that:

1.—The Canyon Bath House and its grounds, including restrooms are in abominable repair and are actually maintained in a poor condition. 2.—Continuance of such conditions is not only unhealthful and unsanitary as far as the public restrooms are concerned, but the general appearance of this city-owned property is damaging to this community's reputation and business.

The resolution, submitted by Board Member Harold Spears, said that although this disreputable condition has been tolerated, the Bath House and Pool are "extensively advertised and spoken of as one of the points of interest of a beautiful community, Sierra Madre." The Chamber of Commerce also pointed out that extensive use of the Bath House and Pool is made "by Sierra Madre residents and visitors during the summer months, and the building is used as an official polling place for city, county and state elections."

The Council will be asked to take "immediate steps to repair and properly maintain the Canyon Bath House and its public restrooms."

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

"HEARTY breakfasts help to make happy days," says Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods consumer kitchens, "for with the feeling of well-being which good food brings, the morning blues disappear." So get up a few minutes earlier and treat yourself to something more substantial than fruit juice and coffee.

Here we give you one of Nancy's Sunday breakfast menus. Longer to prepare than some, but it's time well spent as you will see.

Fruit Juice Oatmeal with Prunes
Creamed Eggs on Bacon Cornbread Coffee

Creamed Eggs

8 tablespoons	½ teaspoon salt
vanilla	Dash of pepper
margarine	1 cup milk
1 cup	4 hard cooked eggs tablespoons

Melt margarine, blend in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add quartered eggs to sauce reserving some for garnish. Heat. Yield: 6 servings.

Bacon Cornbread Squares

6-8 slices bacon, diced
½ cup sifted flour
1 cup sugar
½ cup baking powder
½ cup salt

Melt margarine and butter in a pan.

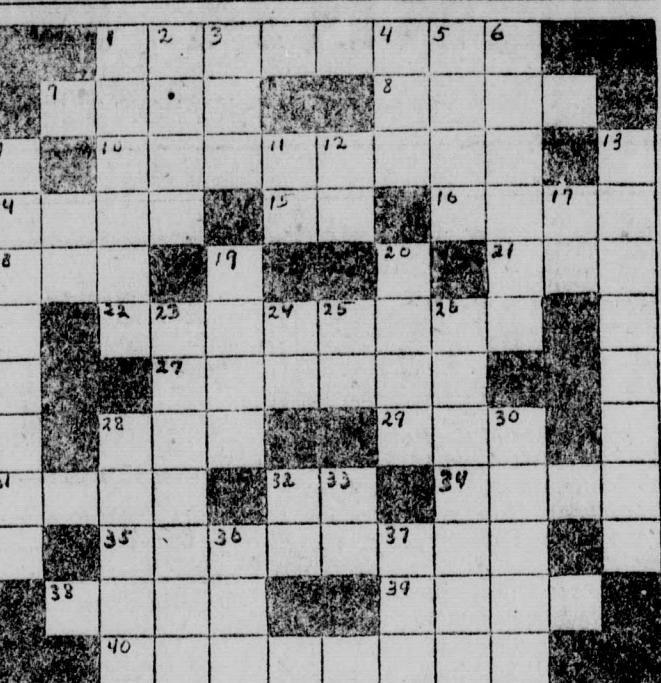

Stir in flour, sugar, baking powder and salt.

Stir in eggs and milk and add dry ingredients little at a time.

Stir until smooth after each addition.

Stir in melted margarine and crisp diced bacon. Pour into a well greased deep square pan. Sprinkle uncooked bacon over top and bake in hot oven (400°F.) 25-30 minutes.

Cut in squares. Yield: one 8-inch square.

How the Workshop Operates in Fred Waring Programs

The 1948 season of the Fred Waring Music Workshop will open at Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., on June 13 and continue through ten one-week sessions ending August 20. More than five hundred school, college, church, community, and industrial music directors from 44 states, Canada, and Hawaii attended the Waring Workshop during its first season in 1947.

The morning observation periods will be followed by afternoon and evening instruction sessions in which Mr. Waring and his assistants will conduct the Workshop members in intensive choral rehearsals interspersed with discussions relating to choral techniques, program building, improvement of music reading, extension of choral repertory, music arranging, microphone technique, and related subjects.

Information concerning enrollment may be secured by addressing: Registrar, Fred Waring Music Workshop, Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.

"HARVEY" AT THE BILTMORE FOR THREE WEEKS

A note about the Pulitzer Prize winning play "Harvey" which Brock Pemberton is bringing back to the Biltmore Theatre for three weeks beginning Tuesday, April 20. This comedy by Mary Chase which has had a very few unsold seats during the first three years touring the larger cities, played 43 weeks in Chicago, after establishing new box office records in nearly every city. Matinees will be on Wednesdays and Saturdays with a special matinee Thursday, April 22.

Joe E. Brown claims that everyone has a "Harvey," but not always in rabbit form. Harvey is just a helper along boosting the idea of brotherly love and help to the fellow man, and he has a nice sense of humor that he puts to constant use. "He just wants to help a fellow get along, that's all," Joe explains. "Just to try to make life a bit easier, a bit more pleasant for those living it. So, he appears in various forms to various people."

CHAMP SPEAKERS LT. GOVERNOR AT KIWANIS TUES.

The Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club had as its guest Tuesday Lt. Gov. Morty Pears who brought the club a message, "Service Is What Counts in a Kiwanis Club." He further encouraged attendance at the International Convention in Los Angeles for June 6-10.

The program as presented by Chairman Larry Garland included two Pasadena Junior College students, Robert Kratz, West Coast champion of extemporaneous speaking, and John Chapman, West Coast oratorical champion.

LOCAL SCHOOL FREE OF SCALP INFECTION

Supt. Chas. Skutt reports there are no existing cases of scalp ringworm among the 625 pupils of the Sierra Madre School. Since some areas of the country are experiencing an epidemic, local parents should be relieved. According to School Nurse Hortense Wells, no cases were found here.

CARROLL FUNERAL RITES HELD IN LOS ANGELES

IT'S CITRUS FOR SALADS

Let's pep up our winter meals and add a touch of summer freshness by using citrus fruits in salads. When fruit is served for a first course, it stimulates the appetite and at the same time provides an excellent source of vitamin C, the vitamin that's famous for its protective qualities. Now is the time to build up resistance against infections. We must remember that Vitamin C is very temperamental and to insure maximum food value we should prepare salads just before we are ready to eat.

GRAPEFRUIT AND MIXED GREEN SALAD

(6 Servings)
1 C. grapefruit segments
1 C. lettuce
1 C. watercress
1/2 C. diced celery
1/2 doz. radishes, sliced
1/4 C. grapefruit French dressing
2 Tbsp. catsup

Cut salad greens in pieces. Combine. Marinate with mixture of grapefruit French dressing and catsup.

GRAPEFRUIT FRENCH DRESSING

4 Tbsp. grapefruit juice
6 Tbsp. salad oil
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. paprika

Combine ingredients and shake well before using.

CAULIFLOWER ORANGE SALAD

(6 Servings)
3/4 C. shredded raw cauliflower
1/2 C. diced celery
3 oranges, cut in small pieces
3 Tbsp. minced green pepper

Combine ingredients in order given and chill. Place on individual plates on salad greens and serve with favorite salad dressing.

GOLDEN GLOW SALAD

(6 Servings)
1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
2 C. water
1/2 C. vinegar
1/2 C. salt
3/4 C. grapefruit sections
1/4 C. grated raw carrots lettuce
mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in water according to package directions, add vinegar and salt; chill. When slightly thickened, fold in grapefruit and carrots. Turn into molds and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise.

FIRE FLAMES

The men of the Fire Department turned out fullfold when W. L. Dyer, Safety Engineer of the So. Calif. Edison Company Safety Department appeared to instruct the fire fighters in safety measures when handling fires near electric wires. He was presented by Bob Green, also with the Edison Company and of the local office. Many very instructive suggestions were given the fire fighters as to what to do and what not to do. One of the valuable suggestions was to keep away from a live wire even tho' it may be known to be of light voltage. Only under extreme emergencies should we attempt to move a live wire that is down. Instructions were given as to how to handle the cases of life or death. This should be passed on to our friends who so ably assist us in keeping down fires. If an electric wire is down, "let it alone!" Somewhere it may be connected with a high voltage line. Call an electrician. We want to take this manner of thanking the folks who so kindly gave their time for this very valuable lesson in handling and not handling live wires.

We have a few live wires in our department who at times create much life at our meetings. Last meeting nite, Joe Grippi's Cuss Can was gone from its niche. The fun of the fine collection period was missed on this account and a re-occurrence may mean its discontinuance. Joe means business when he threatens to quit as "Fine Collector." Let's help Joe out by making his job easier. One of the principal pleasures of being a member of the Sierra Madre Fire Department is to attend the meetings. The meetings are conducted as far from monotony as is possible. Formality is regarded only to keep the business in order. Fun periods are permitted often enough to be glad to get back to business. Let's keep our business straight. Stay with her Joe.

Proof that fires left to smolder will grow into a blaze was proven to a number of the fire fighters last drill night when a call came in to extinguish a large blaze in the rear of the new houses now being built at the north end of Mt. Trail Avenue. Workmen left a pile of trash there that should have been scattered and all fire put out. Enough heat was centered in the pile to eventually create a blaze. All that was needed to spread the fire was a strong gale. Who knows where the cinders might have flown?

The fire fighters' quarters is due for a renovation. The furniture now there is many years old and the walls are badly in need of paint. It is expected that a request to have the paint job done will be granted. Figures for the job are now being looked into by the men. The furniture, tho' old, is considered good enough until prices get so that it can be replaced. Until such a time, a thorough cleaning will be considered adequate.

The committee that is preparing the Float for the coming parades reported progress and if everything goes as planned, we can expect a surprise. The change in date of our local Pioneer Days made the problem of floats in two cities much easier.

It looks like a revival of the good old "Southwest Corner" times. Following the meetings of late, the crowd loafers around with the expected results. If this remains popular, it is only fair to warn the women folk that hubby fire fighter will not be home as early as formerly following a fire meeting. With politics waxing hot, there is an after-meeting corner for that. In another section of the room there is area for those who are inclined to play dominoes and yet there is room and interested fellows who like to play Old Maid.

Not so many of our younger men were so well acquainted with H. J. Mitchell. To most of us, he was known only as "Jack" Mitchell. Jack passed away a few days ago. Older men are passing regularly and when we do not know them so well, we soon forget. Few people understand that Jack Mitchell was an important figure in keeping the fire department together. His constant ideas as to how to improve matters did not come before the public signed by him. He transferred the ideas on to someone who got the credit. He didn't care as long as the fire department went along well. He will be missed long by those who knew him as "Jack" Mitchell and he will long be remembered by the writer of this column for his real, true friendship and encouragement at all times. He helped a lot in keeping the FIRES OUT.

The Great Roundup

The March issue of the Westerners Corral magazine "The Branding Iron" contains a page "In Memoriam" to John K. Rollinson of Pasadena. Mr. Rollinson, a few years ago, retired from the cattle business in Wyoming and devoted much time to writing. He wrote "Pony Trails in Wyoming" and his latest was "Wyoming Cattle Trails."

The magazine asked Percy L. Bonebrake of this city to write the memoriam, being a personal friend of Mr. Rollinson and the Westerners Corral only life member.

The tribute is beautifully written with the understanding of one cattleman to another of the great beyond.

Jack has gone up the Long Trail, but he did not travel it alone. With him went our thoughts, our hearts and our love. We know he found that Trail broad and smooth and that it led among tall trees and luscious grasses and by crystal streams. When he reached The Great Round-up and stood before the Range Boss with the rest of the dogies, when He checked his brand and marks in the Big Brand Book, I know the Range Boss looked on him with a kindly eye, clasped and cut him into the herd that is to graze throughout eternity on the Great Range; that range where grass is always long and green, where the water is pure and sweet, where there are shady trees and the birds sing, where the sun shines all day and the southern breezes blow soft and cool, where there is no pain, no suffering, no grief, no sorrow, where all is peace and happiness forever.

SCHOOL BOARD

It pointed out that in the absence of a willingness on the part of an owner to give the board an option on property, no action can be taken to seriously negotiate or to institute condemnation proceedings until money has been assured by a school bond issue approved by the voters.

The School Board also said that if a portion of the upper Hastings Ranch joins the City of Sierra Madre during the next few months, a change in the law cation of site may be necessary.

Although the architect estimated $40,000 for purchase of a site and $15,000 for development, it was generally agreed in Sierra Madre that a five-acre plot would cost about $50,000, although a relatively level lot would require less money for development.

The school board members said that the architect's estimate of costs would have to be trimmed of all items "considered not absolutely essential," because the $180,000 bond issue would also have to pay for architect's and other incidental fees required before construction can begin.

PRO AND CON IN SCHOOL BONDING ISSUE ARGUED

School population is increasing at a faster rate. During the first half of this school year 40 new students were enrolled. This increase was not unusual, and it is creating an additional shortage of more than two classrooms a year.

It is the School Board's responsibility to plan, and the Board has found that it cannot avoid the fact that by 1952 enrollment, EXCLUDING THE SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES, will reach nearly 800 students. You cannot build classrooms overnight. The minimum time required is 18 months for almost any kind of a project. That is why it is urgent that this $180,000 bond issue be approved May 1.

Piecemeal construction of classrooms is far more expensive in the long run. That is why the minimum essential space of seven classrooms must be provided now.

MRS. VANE'S REBUTTAL

The 29th Observance of Public Schools week starting April 26 is sponsored by the Masons is rounding up to be a community appreciation. John C. Mead reports the full co-operation of civic groups: the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are conducting public interest campaigns, the Legion an Oratorical Contest and the VFW an Essay Contest. The Masons are sponsoring their annual poster contest. All groups are offering prizes worth working for. The climax of the week will be the address by Judge Wm. McKesson at the school auditorium Friday night, April 30.

for Sierra Madre.

And then—about the contemplated new building space—it was my understanding that only three—two-room units could be built from the $180,000 bond issue if the City owned property was not secured.

Con—Mrs. Grace R. Vane

the expansion plans. But $180,000, plus the $90,000 debt still on our present school (total $270,000) uses up 95 per cent of our legal bond capacity. I feel the main purpose of this ill-timed building program is to make Sierra Madre eligible for the School State Aid Fund.

Why the rush to plead "impoverishment"? Four extra rooms won't solve our housing problem, but classrooms built on the old school foundation will! All VOTERS will regret the lack of extra play space, but there is no LAW that says we can't! All taxpayers should consider it highly preferable to being debt-ridden and forced to beg. Defeat this bond issue, and live within the means of 2 sq. miles housing 1340 taxpayers.

MR. WHITE'S REBUTTAL

The 7th and 8th grades were brought back from Pasadena schools 11 years ago at the insistence of parents, merchants and property owners. Their education here has not cost the taxpayers one additional cent.

When a 7th or 8th grader elects to go to Pasadena, the Sierra Madre School District must pay an additional $132 per student to Pasadena—representing the per student educational cost locally.

If Sierra Madre sent the 123 higher grade students to Pasadena next year, this district would have to contribute an ADDITIONAL $16,236 from its present budget to Pasadena. (This is NOT the $17,000 Mrs. Vane refers to. The sum she speaks of is paid if no students go or if all students go.)

Immediate release of the 7th and 8th grades would leave the school still two classrooms short. By 1949 this shortage would have increased to four, and by 1952 the shortage may be as great as 10 classrooms—without the 7th and 8th grades. It is this growth—which is on us—that the school board MUST plan for.

NEW CLASSROOMS ARE NEEDED FOR POPULATION GROWTH — NOT FOR SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES. These grades will not be with us for long—the space needs are too great.

It was pointed out in a statement from the County Council's office that all of the $34,000 paid into the fund of the General High School District goes to the support of grades 9, 10, 11 and 12, and that none goes to the support of grade 7 and 8.

or good education of our children."

The speakers were introduced by Al Morgan, who was appointed chairman of the Lions School Committee which will work for improvement of local school conditions. Other members appointed to the committee by Lions President Ralph "Pappy" Welch were Art Tice and Ernest "Doc" Wall.

Support from business and civic leaders of Sierra Madre also was expressed with the announcement that new members have joined the Citizens' School Bond Campaign Committee.

Placing themselves in back of the proposed school building program were:

THERE'S A BARGAIN
IN YOUR PLANS!

Gas service costs you less today than in 1939

If you are planning to build today, you naturally expect to pay more for almost everything than you would have paid in 1939. But you have one pleasant surprise ahead. When you specify gas—there is a real bargain in your plans. For gas actually costs you less today than in 1939!

Thanks largely to so many new customers, the cost of gas has stayed low. Additional revenue from the sale of gas to more and more customers has contributed in part to offsetting a steady rise in expenses. New customers help when they happen to live where they can be served by existing facilities.

On the other hand—some new customers add to our operating expenses. And heavily, too. Taking care of thousands of new homes located where gas-main extensions are required to reach them, costs us 2½ to 3 times more than in 1939.

Materials and labor are at an all-time high...and taxes, and payrolls and even the cost of gas in the field—have climbed steadily.

Adding new customers has, of course, increased the demand for gas. So—to provide an additional supply of low-cost gas for this enormously growing area, we participated in one of the largest natural gas projects on record. The mammoth $70 million Texas-California pipeline was constructed from the nearest practical source, some 1,200 miles away, and is now in operation.

Meeting rising costs...serving more customers...providing more gas...these are our problems—just as managing a household budget is yours. So whether you are planning to build...to buy a home already built...or to remodel your present home...remember—gas is truly the bargain in your plans!

NOW MORE THAN EVER
YOUR HOUSEHOLD
BARGAIN IS GAS

CAMERA FOR YOUNGSTER A WISE INVESTMENT

Crayons, modeling clay and water colors are part of every youngster's childhood. Parents dread the damage Junior will do to the living room walls and the best rug, but they consider these hazards a small price to pay for giving the child an opportunity to learn to express whatever talents he may have. Wouldn't it be even more practical to give Junior a camera? Nothing fancy, of course. Just a simple box camera with which he could experiment as he chose under whatever guidance his parents saw fit to give. Perhaps it would not make the child grow up to be America's greatest photographer, but that is not the purpose. No matter what talent it might bring out, a camera should prove a valuable means of teaching him to see and interpret the things around him at any age.

POLICE
BLOTTER

Tree Surgeon Joe Custer was all in a flutter when someone reported a fire. It wasn't a joke when a big cloud of smoke was seen going higher and higher. When reported to Chunn, he went there on the run; he asked why the fire was "lit." Joe said, "Why dat's easily, you know Jim Heasley, dat guy give me permit!" (Dat's spose to be good, what do you think?) . . . Two maiden ladies (who are pretty sore on Sierra Madre anyway) are now complaining about someone prowling around their outdoor tub. A prowler with a 13 shoe (or both) was the intruder. Just why water should be dumped from a tub with a hole in it, is not altogether comprehensible. . . An outside warrant for a local (again)... A blocked alley. . . "Fire phone rang"! . . . Stray cat. . . Lost boy! (Both found homes). . . Son on a drunk—Mother asks officers to keep an eye on him. This drinking business is really getting pitiful. . . Boys throwing lemons. . . Dog bite. . . Parking violation. . . Dog roaming the neighborhood (he wouldn't have to roam far to be in the neighborhood). . . After finding a man down and asleep in the grass, one of the officers helped him to his feet. A few steps with the aid of the officer and he was capable of self-ambulation. He said that he wasn't "drunk," so he was taken to the home of his aunt. He was reported by a resident of Mt. Trail. Right on the heels of the last one, a report came in that a drunk was annoying his ex-wife. . . Annoying telephone calls reported to the police. . . Stray dog. . . Stray pup. . . A hose that carried wash water into the channel was stolen, or part of it stolen. Snipped in the middle, about 20 feet of good rubber hose was gone. . . Resident reported shoe prints in the sand beneath his house. Could have been the "Sands of Time." . . . Unable to locate a refrigerator man in town, Offi-

ELECTED TO PHI
BETA KAPPA

Russell H. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Johnson of 642 North Auburn, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa during chapel of Albion College, Mich., April 5th. Election to Phi Beta Kappa, oldest and most distinguished national honor society, is the highest scholastic honor obtainable at Albion College.

cer Jack Rhodes did the only thing he knew to prevent a casualty. He opened the windows. . . Loose horse (grass is better on the other side). . . Fire call. . . Barking dog! (Wait until the moon shines). . . Barking dog. Maybe the moon is shining. . . Free cement scratched. Lovers' initials thereon. . . A man bleeding from the nose and face reported in a car. He was turned over for treatment. He had fallen down steep steps. His alcoholic breath might have been caused from iodine or listerine. . . Grommets taken from parked cars! (times aren't that hard yet—or are they?) A car ran into the pedestrian sign along the "Main Street." Crimped it. . . Husband beats wife (they weren't playing bridge, either). . . Be sure that when you loan your car, that the borrower is not going to use it for purposes not mentioned in the deal. A resident asked for the cops to help him find the driver and his car. When the driver returned, he was in no condition to walk the chalk-line, according to witnesses. He got safely tucked in bed before caught. It is sad to state that the number of occasions the police are finding men "down" from the results of too much liquor is astounding for our once quiet, clean, and friendly place to dwell, Sierra Madre! . . . Water leak! . . . A goat on a lawn in the residential district was only a kid—but when it started bleating to the annoyance of the neighborhood, there was no longer any kidding. . . A found scarf. . . This is before the local election results are known. Hope there is not too much celebration.

MISSION WORK IN JAPAN STUDY OF LUNCHEON MEET

Talks of universal interest highlighted the recent meeting of the Women's Society of the Congregational Church. Rev. Herbert Herberts related his experiences while a colonel in the Army under MacArthur in Japan. "The American Board in Japan" dealing with Congregational work, was presented by Mrs. George Morgridge. Miss Marjorie Adams spoke on "Conscription As Seen By Christian Citizens."

The all-day meeting and luncheon, hosted by the Lydian Circle, was planned by Mrs. Charlotte Bush, with Mrs. Lewis L. George conducting the business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. Warren O. Preston.

MARINERS TAKE MARINE TESTS AT BALBOA

Mariner Scouts started passing their first ratings Saturday, when they demonstrated ability in swimming, rowing and throwing a life-ring. They were guests along with two Pasadena ships, at the Mar-Casa beach cottage, on Balboa Island, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church. The girls were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse. Mrs. Morse is the skipper and Mr. Morse gave rowing instruction and the ass't leaders, Mrs. Margo Harris and Mrs. Sylvia Weber. Mrs. K. W. Robertson will provide the transportation.

In preparation for the trip at the Wednesday Youth Hut meeting, Miss Louise Paulson, skipper of the first Mariner ship in Pasadena, spoke on sailing.

League of Cities Requests Reasonable Time to Cope With Local Smog ProblemsSIERRA MADRE OFFICIALS AMONG VALLEY GROUP MAKING INTENSIVE STUDY

The cities of Los Angeles county want to, and intend to cooperate to the fullest possible extent in cleaning up their share of the smog nuisance caused by burning at city dumps but they need a reasonable amount of time to do it. That was the consensus of a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles County Division of the League of California Cities held at Huntington Park last night.

Nineteen of the 45 cities of the county have been notified by the County Air Pollution Control Commission of smog violations. Eighteen of the cities have been given a deadline of July 1 to cease burning at city dumps, but Sierra Madre has been notified that an injunction will be filed against that city April 28 if open dump burning has not been discontinued.

Assured by Robert L. Chass,

Assistant Chief Inspector of the County Air Pollution Control District, that cities were not being "picked on", a countywide committee of nine city officials was named to negotiate and consult with County Air Pollution authorities and the District Attorney's office to "work out a rational solution". Members of the committee are: Mayor Reuel R. Brown of Monrovia, chairman; Assemblyman A. I. Stewart, city director of Pasadena and author of the smog control legislation at the 1947 session of the legislature; City Manager Eugene Riggs of El Monte; City Administrator C. W. Shelley of Montebello; City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds of Sierra Madre; City Engineers Jack Albers of Glendale, Joseph Hurley of Sierra Madre, and A. A. Blakesley of Monrovia; and William Mendenhall, supervisor of the Angeles National Forest.

The committee was appointed by Councilman Clarence Wagner of Long Beach, president of the County League, who pointed out that the League itself helped to put across the Air Pollution Control Act. "This is a problem that affects every city in the county—not only the 19 that have been officially warned. Some of us are using fill and cover dumps but sufficient close-in land is always a problem. In Long Beach we are fast running out of available land. Budget considerations and the fact that some 35 cities in the county are holding elections on April 13 are other factors that call for a more reasonable time allowance in meeting this problem."

Mr. Wagner said.

CITY ATTORNEY REYNOLDS AND CITY ENGINEER HURLEY

OF SIERRA MADRE

SAID THAT THEIR CITY

WAS DOING CONTROLLED BURNING

ON ITS PUBLIC DUMP TWICE A

MONTH AND THAT THERE IS NO

AVAILABLE LAND IN CITY BOUNDARIES

FOR A CUT AND COVER FILM

WHICH WOULD BE ONLY A TEMPORARY SOLUTION TO THEIR COMMON PROBLEM, BUT THIS CRACKDOWN OF APRIL 28 FOR OUR CITY IS VERY ROUGH.

"Sierra Madre does not want to take any precipitate action that will be prejudicial to the interests of the other cities in the country." Reynolds said.

Jack Albers, city engineer of Glendale, said that the city has 92 tons a day average rubbish to dispose of and it is estimated that it will take five acres of land to take care of Glendale for one year on a cut and cover operation. "Glendale owns the land and can quit burning combustible rubbish within three days' notice, but we can't get permission from other public agencies to use it for cut and cover. Of all the cities of the county, only Beverly Hills and Pasadena are disposing of combustible rubbish properly with a modern incinerator. That's what we want to do in Glendale but it takes at least a year to design and build a proper incinerator," he said.

MRS. GEO. MORGRIDGE REVIEWS PRISCILLA HISTORY GROUP

A history of the Priscillas was given by Mrs. Geo. Morgridge at a meeting of this group in the home of Mrs. H. C. Reavis, 561 Sturtevant Drive, last week. Misses Clara Sykes and Ruth West offered several piano duets. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Warren Preston, Mrs. Ben Mabley and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman.

Mendenhall pointed out that 14 foothill cities in the county border on the Angeles National Forest. "Over a period of years these cities have worked out cooperative agreements for carefully controlling burning on public dumps which has overcome a great hazard of fire in the adjacent forest areas. If those cities are forced upon short notice to close these dumps, inevitably the home owners will ignore local ordinances and burn their combustibles themselves, greatly endangering the watershed and run-off areas which provide half of the irrigation water for this county." Mendenhall made the statement that the contribution of smoke from dumps of the foothill cities constituted less than one per cent of the smoke nuisance and had nothing whatever to do with the eye-smarting fumes.

Stanton C. Long, an investigator from the District Attorney's office, told the city officials that if cogent reasons from a sufficient number of cities were presented, the District Attorney's office might consider them for an extension of time.

Preliminary hearings on smog violations have been held to date for the Cities of Sierra Madre, South Gate, Redondo Beach, Torrance, Glendale and Pomona. Other cities which have been notified of violations on their municipal dumps, and for which later hearings will be scheduled are Signal Hill, San Fernando, Alhambra, Azusa, Los Angeles, El Segundo Culver City, Santa Monica, Huntington Park, El Monte, Monrovia, San Marino, and Covina.

The County League Directors discussed a proposal of joint purchasing of certain standard items used by cities as a means of saving money through large volume purchases. A Committee was appointed to study the program, composed of City Administrator Mike Teitelson of Culver City, chairman; City Manager Howard Stites of Burbank; and Councilman Edward C. Peterson of South Pasadena.

Budapest String Quartet Use Stradivari Violins In Chamber Music Series

By Tommy Ann Miller

The eminent Budapest String Quartet will broadcast a series of five programs of chamber music from the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C., beginning Saturday afternoon. For these broadcasts the Quartet will use four of the Stradivari violins and four of the Tourte bows presented to the Library in 1936. Members of this outstanding ensemble are: Joseph Roisnhan and Edgar Ortenberg, violins; Boris Kroyt, viola; and Michael Schneider, cello. The program will include late quartets of Beethoven and the Mozart "Adagio and Fugue in C Minor."

Bruno Walter leads the New York Philharmonic Symphony in Beethoven's tremendous opus, the "Miss Solemnis," in the final concert of the season. Soloists are Eleanor Steber, soprano; Nan Merriman, mezzo-soprano; Lorenzo Alvaro, bass, and William Hair, tenor. The Westminster Choir will also be heard under the direction of John Finley Williamson.

Violinist Jascha Heifetz will make one of his few appearances of the year on the "Telephone Hour" Monday evening. He has selected the second and third movements of Brahms' "Concerto in D Major." Composed in 1878, the work was slow to win public favor, but today is one of the most popular violin concertos with public and artists alike. Orchestra offers music of DeFalla-Kochanski and Glinka.

Music of Gluck and Rimsky-Korsakoff will compose the second concert of the NBC Symphony under Erich Leinsdorf. Gluck's "Iphigenia in Aulis Overture" will be first heard. In his day, Gluck was considered a musical revolutionist. The major work will be Rimsky-Korsakoff's colorful "Scherezade." Composed in 1888, Rimsky-Korsakoff wanted the listener to "carry away the impression that it is an Oriental narrative of some numerous and varied fairy tale wonders."

Chauncey Kelley conducts the ABC Symphony in Morton Gould's "Foster Gallery," in its first performance on the air. Written in 1939 and dedicated to Fritz Reiner, the work is a series of songs and dances of the American folk composer, Stephen Foster. Soloist in Debussy's "Danse Sacrees et Danse Profane," for harp and orchestra, will be Miss Gloria Agostini, young American harpist.

Preliminary steps toward the building of a log cabin on Auburn lots for Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls' meetings will be started Saturday when a group of boys with the supervision of Arthur Evans, Scoutmaster, will lay pipes for water.

Two hundred and fifty people are expected to attend the district meeting of the American Legion at the Woman's Clubhouse to hear the Lieutenant Governor of California, Burton Fitts, speak.

Residents of East Central are protesting against widening that street as part of the improvement program recently approved by the City Council. Owners are alarmed because the proposed 15 feet extra added to the street width will eliminate a large portion of the front yards.

As a result of the organization meeting and unanimous vote of the City Council Monday night, Judge Gilbert Thayer is the new mayor of Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Elizabeth Scantlebury announces publication of "Little World Children," her recently-written geographical reader for youngsters in the primary grades.

City Trustees visiting in the canyon Monday were met by members of the Canyon Improvement Association who took them on a tour of the canyon and presented their two major propositions: that of restoring the swimming pool and the automobile bridge on upper Brookside Lane.

Mrs. Carl Greese and Miss Jessie Dunning will be co-hostesses at the meeting of the Friendship Club this afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Carter, 44 West Carter, entertained four ladies at luncheon last Friday.

Father got around too.

The Klondike gold fields opened in 1898 and a human stampede began to rumble North. Across the country men laid down their plows, their account books, their tools—seduced by words, fevered with illusion.

Thousands upon thousands of them funnelled into Seattle; poured through the narrows of the Inside Passage; over the bitter Chilkoot and spilled out onto the tundra grasses at the headwaters of the Yukon.

For gold.

Grandfather, then in his mid-forties, had been designated Special Postal Commissioner to Alaska and was on his way to establish postoffices and order cut of cold chaos.

He stopped by at Western Reserve University and mentioned the fact to 19-year old Father. They left together.

Seattle in March of '98 sprawled over its steep hills, cluttered with 20,000 men passing through in search of the bonanza.

Merchants displayed their wares out on the sidewalk—this was the outfitting point for the Klondike. There were walking boots, spiked boots, snow shoes, moccasins, parkas, fur hats, fur gloves, gold pans, divining rods and live dogs to pull sleds.

And there was woolen underwear. Father bought two suits for $24 but never found out how to wash them.

Aboard the steamer Queen they twisted up the Passage to Skagway and from there to Pye. They were in snow then, transporting their stuff on sleds to Sheep Camp at the base of the crystal staircase of the Chilkoot climb.

The camp was only a stopping place but it averaged 7000 population under tent. And from it, like a line of ants, stretched the long black thread of struggling men, up—up and unbelievably up to the shining summit of the Chilkoot climb.

On the morning of April 3 they awakened to a soft Chinook wind, first breath of summer. The Indian packers felt of the air, shook their heads and stolidly refused to work that day.

Father and Grandfather started up the trail with little flurries of snow flying against their faces. In the human chain to the first stop 100 men tramped in single file.

Suddenly from the great stillness of the snow mountains came a sound like muffled thunder. The men's faces arched up—and the whole mountain cap

DUETS PLAN TRIP TO PLANETARIUM FOR NEXT MEETING

Star gazing at Griffith Park Observatory will replace the usual dinner when the Duets meet, Friday evening. Approximately 20 couples will assemble at the Congregational Church at 7:30. Late refreshments are planned at the Tom O'Shanter Inn, by hosts Mr. and Mrs. Jay Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson.

MARINERS GIVE GOING AWAY PARTY FOR SALLY LATSON

A going away party was given for Sally Latson, Tuesday evening by Cynthia Rondeau, 59 West Carter. Sally and her parents moved to Whittier Thursday. Twenty sister Mariners presented her with a gift and skipper Jane Morse gave her a corsage. Miss Latson was the first chief bos'n of the Mariner Scouts in Sierra Madre.

of snow was dropping down, roaring down on them.

They broke from the trail and tried to run—which way? They shouted and screamed, knocking one another down in an effort to escape—where? There was fear and horror and deafening noise.

And then there was silence. The long black line of marching men was obliterated. For two hundred yards below Father and Grandfather the trail was buried under fifty feet of snow. Those who had escaped stood like statues, unable to comprehend.

Then a woman screamed. That human cry brought a thousand minds to their senses. Men came running from above and below. They worked for one hour, two hours, time without time. Willing arms relieved tired ones. Those with no better tools dug with hunting knives and tent poles and bare hands.

After 72 hours they had accounted for 55 missing men. Three had been taken out alive. Fifty-two were dead.

For gold.

A recent column dealt with Grandfather's six-gun days in Tombstone, Arizona. All material is sketched from a book which this columnist may finish some day.

NEWS OF THE WORLD IN PICTURES

SHIPBOARD WATCH IN EGYPT... As a welcome relief from pictures of profound significance, this is just a photograph of an Egyptian camel driver standing on top of his camel in front of one of the pyramids of Giza and looking for whatever camel drivers look for in Egypt. Probably more camels.

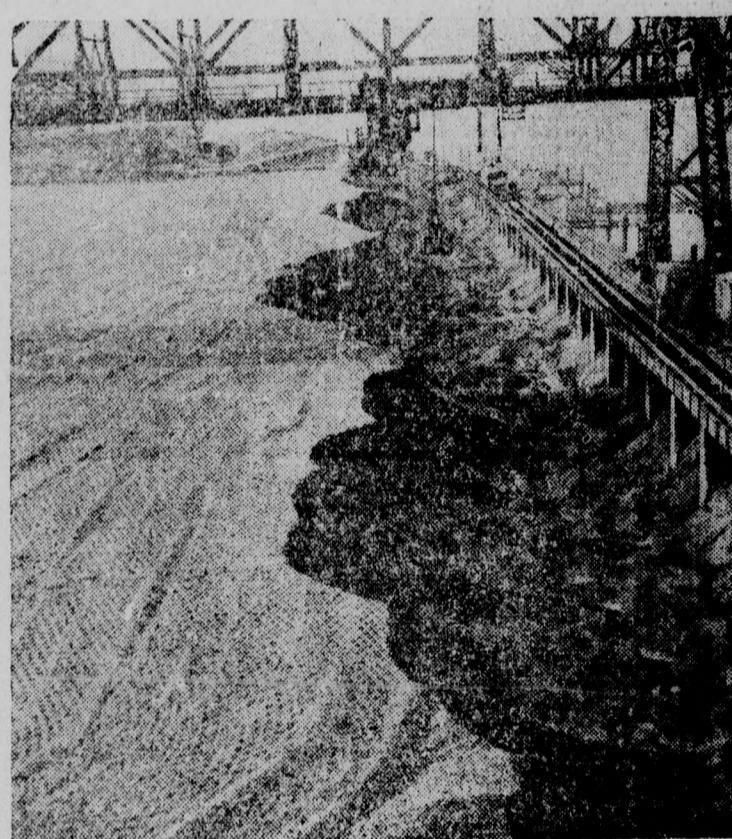

BIG SHOT COMBINATION... Number one father-and-son combination rifle team in the U.S. in 1948 were Harry J. Grimesey (left) and son Robert, 17, of Janesville, Wis. Grimesey, senior, a supervisor in the Parker Pen company plant in Janesville, recently set a national record of 199 for the prone and kneeling positions. Bob is an Eagle Scout as well as a champion marksman.

COMPULSORY TRAINING IN CHINA... Stricken with continuous war for a decade, China has turned to compulsory military training to provide manpower. Here, at a ceremony held in the auditorium of the Shanghai city council, Shanghai's first lot drawing for military service was held. There were 211 numbered bamboo plates in the jar.

VICTIM OF MALNUTRITION, this wan orphan is one of millions in Europe and Asia fighting against the ravages of tuberculosis, scurvy, rickets—dread partners of starvation. Americans are helping them in their desperate fight by supporting the Crusade for Children of Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

ALL GOING OUT, NOTHING COMING IN... It looks like a lot of coal, but this stockpile of the Clairton by-products coke plant at Pittsburgh was dwindling at an alarming rate as John L. Lewis' soft coal miners continued their strike for $100-a-month pensions. Steel company officials were not committing themselves as to how long their plants could run on present stockpiles.

DETAINED... Mme. Irene Joliot-Curie, Nobel prize-winning physicist and daughter of the discoverer of radium, was detained by U.S. immigration officials upon her arrival in New York but released a few hours later. She is connected with the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, labeled as subversive by Justice department.

BUSY... Here, at agonizingly long last, is a one-armed paper hanger. He is Clifford Roddy of New Florence, Pa., who lost left arm in an auto accident. Naturally, he's as busy as ...
